

OUR VALUES

ELKAS – A RELIABLE PARTNER.

When it comes to manufacturing and selling complex high-quality products in the field of transport and storage technology, we strive to create absolutely reliable, ideally functioning solutions for our customers as a matter of principle.

We use direct methods and communicate clearly to achieve results that create a solid and trusting business relationship, whether supplying standardised or custom-designed solutions. We act thoughtfully, competently and creatively in the best interest of our customers, using reproducible, clearly defined business processes. Elkas is a medium-sized company managed by the second generation of owners. The company is clearly structured and managed by a highly committed team, which also conveys reliability to all of our employees and suppliers. Elkas – outstanding reliability!

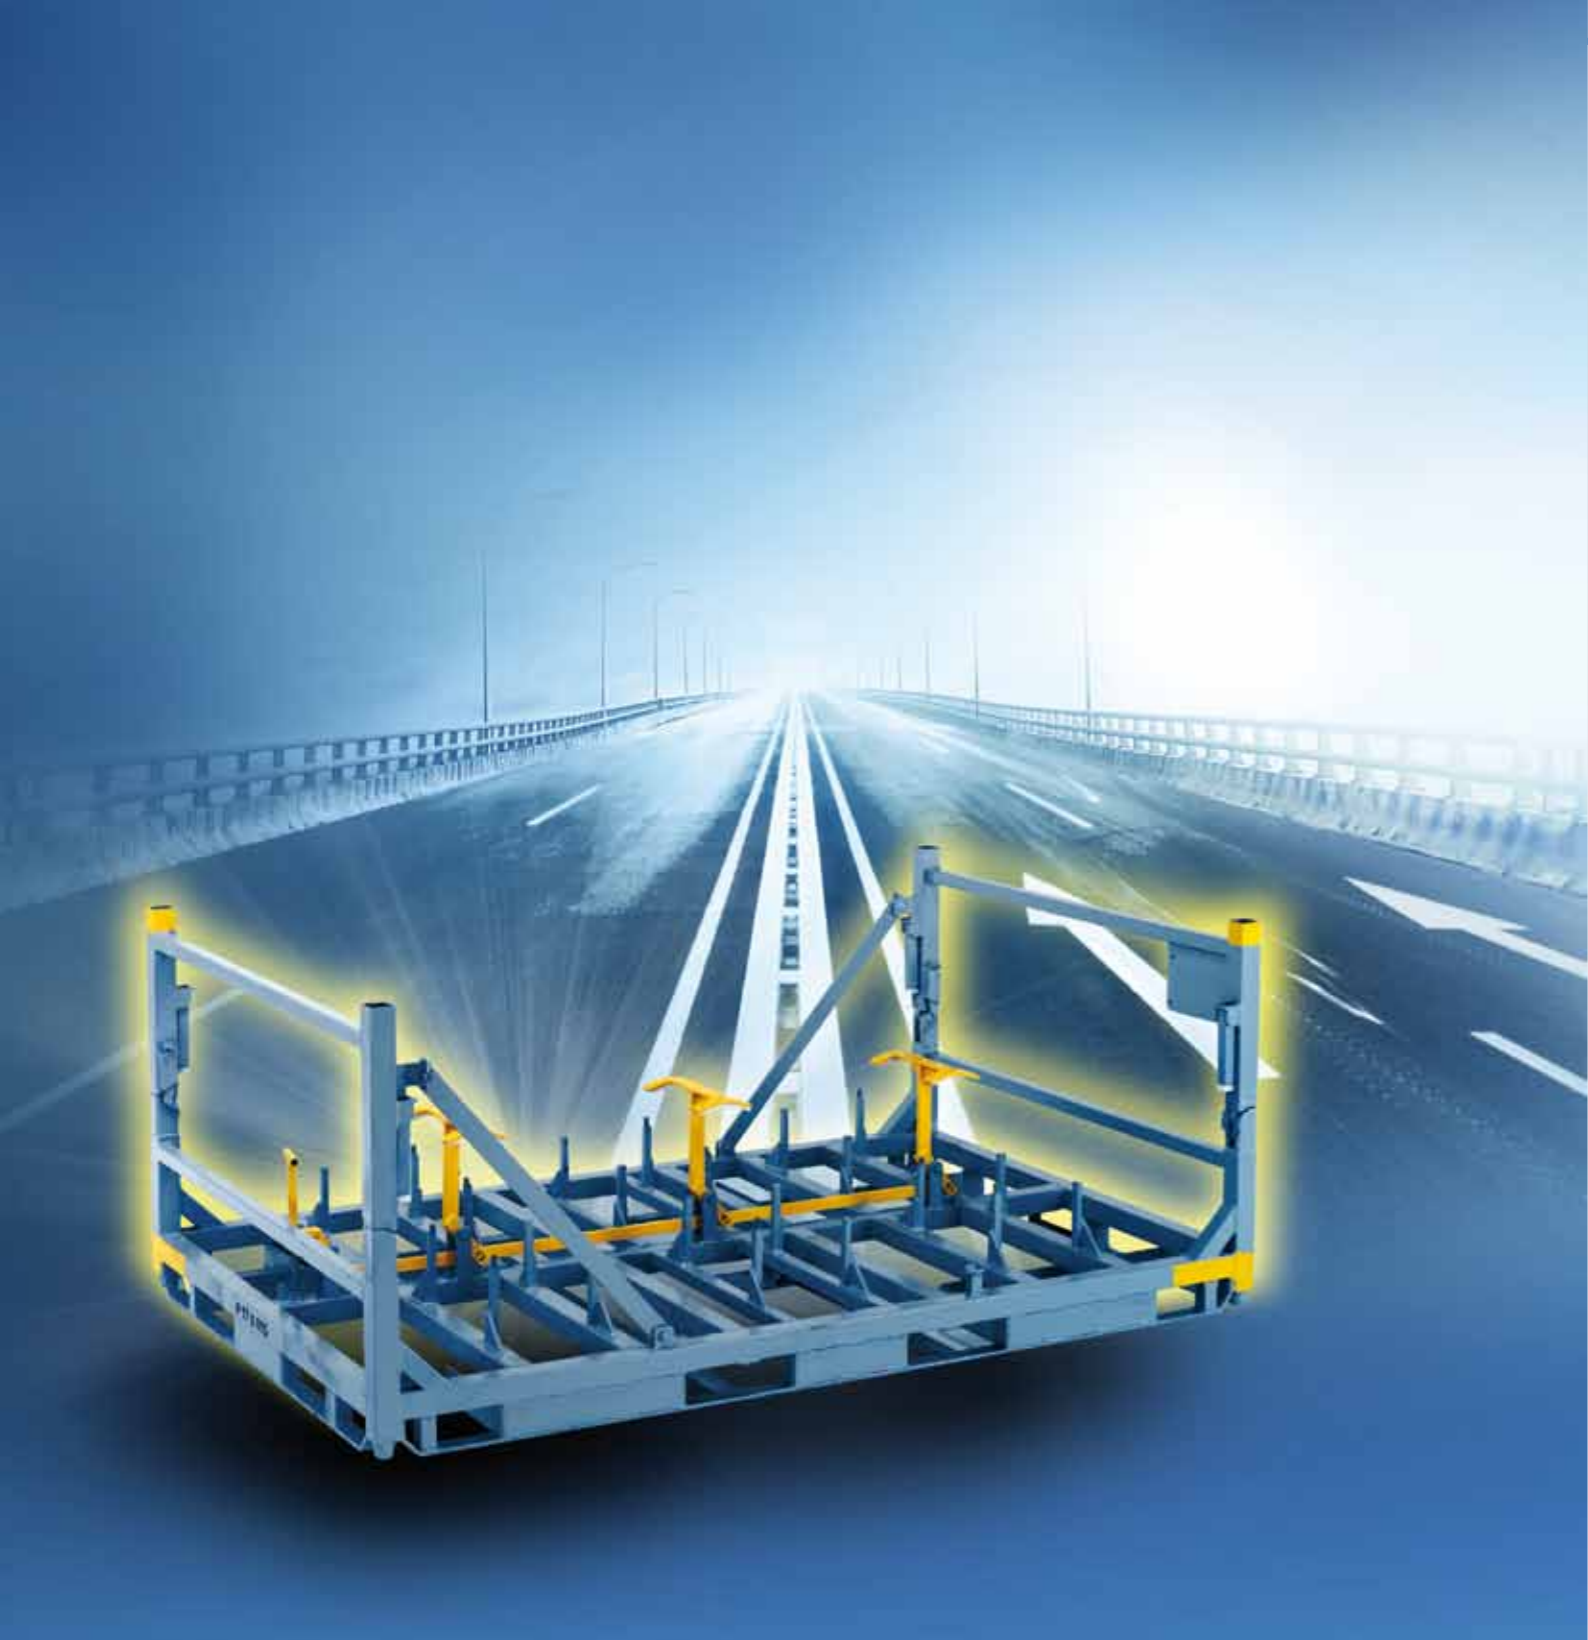

ELKAS – WITH CONSISTENCY.

Our consistency is enduring – we have been well established in our market and industry sector for more than 50 years. With many years of experience and extremely high quality standards we develop and manufacture multi-purpose load carriers from various types of steel.

We also reliably produce high-quality racks specially designed for predefined fields of application. Elkas has continually developed as a reliable company, firmly established in the region and always in touch with its roots.

Our long-lasting customer relationships are clear confirmation of this fact. They are based on sustainable, well-founded, trusting cooperation. Customers who place firm orders with Elkas can be sure that the promises and agreements we make will be kept. Our business relationships are firm and long lasting!

ELKAS – TARGET-ORIENTED ACTIVITY.

A straightforward corporate structure, know-how acquired over decades and outstanding expertise are Elkas' clear distinguishing features. From this sound base, Elkas continues to develop as a company with a clear sense of purpose.

This means retaining proven solutions, progressing carefully and thoughtfully and being open to new ideas at the same time. Our benchmark in this endeavour is always to achieve the greatest possible customer benefit and to optimise the company's added value. That is our corporate strategy.

In practical terms this means an intensive dialogue with our customers to understand their requirements and structures, with the ultimate purpose of achieving ideally functioning, technically sophisticated, economical solutions for them.

ELKAS – NEW CHALLENGES, NEW EXPERTISE.

Stagnation means regression – and that is particularly true of the expertise and skills that need to be continually acquired by a company in order to move forward. And we constantly work on these skills – always open and interested with a view to current and future developments, both in the market and in the world of industry.

That is the only way for us to remain competitive as an expert, reliable developer and supplier of individual customer requirements. This applies particularly to demanding requirements and the high level of expectations that our customers naturally have concerning the safety, quality and service life of the products we manufacture, both in series production and customised, individually designed solutions. With our team of specialists we always deliver you our promise of performance: “We love working for your success!”
